HUMAN BONES ARE FOUND AT LONE MOUNTAIN BY ITALIANS WHO ARE HUNTING RABBITS

Gruesome Discovery of a Portion of Skull and Other Bones Is Made Last Evening

While hunting rabbits in the vicinity of Lone mountain yesterday, two Italians made a gruesome find of the portion of a human skeleton. Human bones were strewn about the mountain side while the upper portion of the skull was found some little distance apart.

The Italians returned to Tonopah last night and immediately informed Chief of Police Smith and Justice of the Peace Atkinson of the find. The men stated that the bones gave every indication of having been exposed to the elements for years and that but few were to be found. The lower jaw was missing from the skull, but in the upper jaw four teeth were to be observed, two on each side. No marks of identification were to be noticed, the teeth being natural. The skull was found between two huge rocks and it appeared that the victim of the desert had crawled in the protected spot to escape, either the sweltering rays of the summer's sun, or the cold winds of the winter.

The scene of the discovery is in Esmeralda county and Judge Atkinson will notify the justice of the peace at Millers today, and furnish that official with such information that the remains of the skeleton can be located without trouble.

It is believed that the bones are those of some prospector who fell a victim to the desert's heat. There is no hope of ever learning the identity of the victim, unless another search of the scene reveals additional information. The officers of Tonopah are of the opinion that the discovery of the bones brings to light another case of where the desert has claimed a victim, and do not believe that foul play was concerned in the demise of the unknown.

BULLION BARS ARE SHIPPED TO SELBY COMPANY

MACNAMARA MAKES BI-MONTHLY CLEAN-UP AND TEST RUN MADE AT WEST END

Bullion bars with an estimated weight of 900 pounds was shipped by the MacNamara Mining company this morning to the Selby smelter. The bullion represents the bi-monthly clean-up of the MacNamara company, according to Superintendent J. W. Sherwin and has an approximate value of $12 1/2 a pound, or a total value of $10,800. The shipment this morning was through the Wells Fargo company.

A shipment of bullion was also made today from the West End company when six bars were consigned to the Selby company. This shipment merely represents a test run through a new burner recently installed at the mill and cannot be classed as a regular clean-up. The burner worked without a hitch and as a result of the test run about 10,000 ounces of bullion was extracted.

NO ROOSEVELT PARTY IN STATE OF NEBRASKA

LINCOLN, Neb., June 25.—In the opinion of Governor Aldrich, expressed today, there is no occasion for organization of the Roosevelt party in Nebraska.

"The progressives are in the majority here," he said, "and there is no occasion for a new party. To organize one simply would be to throw the republican machinery into the hands of the reactionaries."

A meeting of the republican state committee has been called for tomorrow night at Omaha to consider the situation regarding the presence of the Roosevelt party in the republican ranks. It is reported.

STRIKE OF CONSIDERABLE MAGNITUDE IN NORTH STAR

A strike of considerable magnitude has been made in the North Star mine at the 1250-foot level, according to S. H. Brady, consulting engineer for that company. In the southeast crosscut, northeast of the shaft, a four-foot vein has been opened up and the assays received are very promising. The indications point to the vein opening into a good milling body of ore as the work progresses. On the strength of the discovery the stock has closed strong during the last few days, and quite a demand for the certificates has been noted.

Work on the southeast crosscut on the hanging wall side of the Mizpah fault, on the 1250 level will be resumed within a few days. A north crosscut on the same level is now being driven to prospect the ground north of the same fault, and is making excellent progress.

Engineer Brady stated today that a carload of shipping ore was being extracted from both above and below the 950-foot level and that the shipment would soon be made to the smelter.

ALLEGED WHITE SLAYERS ORDERED EXTRADITED BY JUDGE FARRINGTON

Tom O'Neill and Ruby Wells who endeavored to prevent their extradition to Utah to be tried on charges of white slavery, were on Saturday afternoon ordered taken to Utah to stand trial. They had their hearing before Judge Farrington of the federal court at Carson.

In this case it is charged that Tom O'Neill, a former saloon keeper of Ely and Ruby Wells, said to have been his paramour, imported some young girls from Utah for immoral purposes at Ely and that they kept them locked in the state room of a Pullman car, while en route so that they could not escape.

The Wells woman, it is stated, was at one time a resident of Tonopah, moving from this city to Ely.

MISSOURI GOVERNOR DECLARES HE WILL THROW STRENGTH TO REGULAR PARTY

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 25.—Governor Hadley, on his return from the Chicago convention, declared his intention not to join the Roosevelt third term motion.

He said that no political party ever did or ever will exist in which men will not at times use authority unfairly and to accomplish selfish and improper ends.

"In my opinion," said Mr. Hadley, "the best way to fight such men and methods and also the best way in which to fight for correct principles of government is within the party rather than by leaving it."

"Some planks were omitted from the platform which I should like to have seen adopted, but there will be a foundation in the platform that will not be objectionable to any republican."

"Whatever the effects of the convention elsewhere, it has resulted in reconciliation to a considerable extent of the differences in the party in this state."

Illinois Candidate Wins Out on First Ballot For Temporary Chairman of Democratic Convention

Bryan Carries Fight to Floor of the Convention and Names Kern as His Choice for Chairman

BALTIMORE, Md., June 25.—With William J. Bryan planning to make a supreme effort to name John W. Kern, instead of Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman, the democratic national convention opened here today amid a downpour of rain. Norman E. Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee, called the convention to order at 12:17 and was followed by Cardinal Gibbons, who pronounced the invocation. Urey Woodson read the temporary roll call, which was not disputed.

Bryan Opens Fight

When the fight opened Bryan was lined up against Champ Clark, Oscar Underwood, Judson Harmon, the delegates of the three presidential aspirants, Ryan, Murphy and Belmont. Bryan is hourly looming up larger and stronger for the presidential nomination.

Patrick Calhoun of San Francisco and "Big Steve" Stevens of Colorado are in attendance representing the republican reactionaries, while Bristow and Works are appearing for the Roosevelt forces. La Follette, it is reported, has telephoned to Bryan that he will attend the convention.

Leaders Group Together

Little Applause for Bryan

Little applause resulted when Bryan entered. The California delegation entered bearing Clark's picture on a banner decorated with the announcement: "Special privileges to none. Equal right to all."

Bryan Nominates Kern

When the name of Parker was presented before the convention as temporary chairman, Bryan arose and submitted the name of his former running mate, John W. Kern. Bryan was pale and his face was set and flushed. He was greeted with a yell and the cheering swept through the hall. All the delegates joined in the tumult with the exception of New York, Indiana and Illinois, which remained silent during the demonstration.

Praise for Indianan

Bryan spoke for 35 minutes, lauding Kern as a steadfast democrat for 16 years. He declared the motto of Kern was the same as that of Thomas Jefferson, "He never sold the truth; he served the hour." Bryan declared that he had served Parker, but was dissatisfied, and stated that a predatory force had gathered behind Parker.

"I appeal to you to show the people that you are not terrified by Ryan, and have not been bought by Belmont," he concluded.

Frequent Interruption

The Nebraskan was frequently interrupted by yells of "Parker" from the New York delegates and also from the gallery. Kern took the speakers' platform and offered to withdraw if Parker would agree that a compromise candidate be named. The Indianan declared that Bryan was the only man who could lead the democrats to victory, and charged that the galleries had been apparently packed to create disorder.

Kern Withdraws

Kern then withdrew by declaring that he was a personal friend of Parker and did not desire to injure the chances of Governor Thomas

Marshall of Illinois, Bryan Resumes Speaking

Bryan resumed speaking at 1:52. He declared that Ollie James and Senator O'Gorman of New York had refused to lead the fight, but he was willing to stand by his guns.

Theodore Bell, the California democratic leader, followed Bryan, and stated that he was sorry to disagree with the Nebraskan, but he did not believe the nomination of Parker was the result of any sinister politics. He spoke amid a continual disorder.

Fitzgerald Roasted

Fitzgerald of New York attempted to speak for Parker but a chorus of "Cannon's man" and boos and hoots drove him to his seat. Pandemonium reigned for several minutes when Mack ordered a vote taken on the question.

Gag Rule Declared

Lea protested that the order of the chairman calling for a vote was nothing short of "gag rule," but he was squelched by the presiding officer. Bryan protested unavailingly and finally Johnson of Texas was recognized.

"Bryan is on one side and Wall street on the other. That is all I want to know," shouted Johnson amid a storm of hisses and cheers.

Parker Elected

The roll call resulted in the election of Parker, who polled 576 votes. Bryan was second with 510, Kern 1, O'Gorman 3, absent 2.

Parker was then escorted to the platform and delivered the opening speech of the convention. At the conclusion of his address an adjournment was taken until 8 o'clock this evening.
